

If you care for your health, the environment, and the environment you are creating for yourself and your family at home (which you apparently do, because you read the Owner Builder!) then why not paint your new or existing home with chemical free, toxin free, all natural paint? Casein (milk protein) paints are traditional, safe and environmentally friendly. All pigments are from the earth, and you create the colours of your choice! Put the play back into painting and create a beautiful background to your life with Natural Paint.
